

How much does Green Tourism for London cost?

Green Tourism for London is a membership scheme with annual fees. For the launch, the LDA is offering to subsidise fees for the first 150 businesses to join. If you are eligible, you pay only 50% of the normal annual fee in each of the first two years, and the LDA will subsidise the rest, including the full cost of your first year's joining fee, which is normally £60.

The table outlines the range of costs by category of business. The prices in the right hand column show what you pay if you are eligible for the LDA subsidy.
